VOLUME CIX.--NO. 87. ALEXANDRIA, VA., SATURDAY EVENING, APRIL 11, 1908. PRICE 2 CENTS

What Ails You?

Do you feel weak, tired, despondent, have frequent headaches, coated tongue, bitter or bad taste in morning, "heartburn," belching of gas, acid risings in throat after eating, stomach gnaw or burn, foul breath, dizzy spells, poor or variable appetite, nausea at times and kindred symptoms?

If you have any considerable number of the above symptoms you are suffering from biliousness, torpid liver with indigestion, or dyspepsia. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is made up of the most valuable medicinal principles known to medical science for the permanent cure of such abnormal conditions. It is a most efficient liver invigorator, stomach tonic, bowel regulator and nerve strengthener.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" is not a patent medicine or secret nostrum, a full list of its ingredients being printed on its bottle-wrapper and attested under oath. A glance at its formula will show that it contains no alcohol, or harmful habit-forming drugs. It is a fluid extract made with pure, triple-refined glycerine, of proper strength, from the roots of the following native American forest plants, viz., Golden Seal root, Stone root, Black Cherrybark, Queen's root, Bloodroot, and Mandrake root.

The following leading medical authorities, among a host of others, extol the foregoing roots for the cure of just such ailments as the above symptoms indicate: Prof. R. Bartholow, M. D., of Jefferson Med. College, Phila.; Prof. H. C. Wood, M. D., of Univ. of Pa.; Prof. Edwin M. Hale, M. D., of Hahnemann Med. College, Chicago; Prof. John King, M. D., Author of American Dispensatory; Prof. Jno. M. Scudder, M. D., Author of Specific Medicines; Prof. Laurence Johnson, M. D., Med. Dept. Univ. of N. Y.; Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., Author of Materia Medica and Prof. in Bennett Medical College, Chicago. Send name and address on Postal Card to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., and receive free booklet giving extracts from writings of all the above medical authors and many others endorsing, in the strongest possible terms, each and every ingredient of which "Golden Medical Discovery" is composed.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. They may be used in conjunction with "Golden Medical Discovery" if bowels are much constipated. They're tiny and sugar-coated

TERRIBLE DEED OF DEMENTED.

Insane from religious mania following the birth of her last child, two months ago, Mrs. Salvatora Sarti, who lives with her husband, a coal dealer, in New York, tried to kill him while her eldest son looked on in amazement, early yesterday. She said later on her arrest that she had been commanded by St. Joseph to slay her husband.

At daybreak she woke up and went to the room back of the one where her husband was sleeping. She appeared again with two bed slats, which she leaned against the table and fixed in the form of a cross. Over this she threw a piece of curtain which she took from the rod, in the shape of a garland to decorate the cross that she had made.

Before this improvised altar she knelt down to worship. She was not satisfied to pray alone, however, and she went to the side of the bed, shook her husband, and said "Get up and pray."

"Leave me alone," he said. "I'm sleepy and I want to rest."

Three times she tried to awaken her husband, but each time he shook her off and went to sleep again. Finally another idea occurred to her. She went into the next room where Michael was sleeping. "Come," she said, "and worship."

The sleepy youngster followed her to the front room, where the cross which she had built stood against the table. Down on his kees she forced him, and, kneeling beside him, she prayed for him. There she left him on his knees and went toward the room where the four smaller children were sleeping.

The boy saw her return tiptoeing into the room. One of her hands was on her lips and in the other she held a big carving knife.

The boy stopped the prayer which he was repeating and screamed. He screamed again when he saw his mother tiptoeing to the bed where his father lay. She stood by the bedside with her knife upraised over the sleeping form of her husband, and the boy screamed again.

The man half awoke and instinctively, frightened by the cries of the boy, turned over. The knife, which had been aimed at his throat, came down, cutting a great gash, but missing the jugular vein.

The man got up and grappled with his wife. She still held the knife, which was upraised ready to strike again. The man was so weak from the first blow that he did not have strength enough to hold the arm which his wife had upraised with the threatening knife. The boy, still screaming, ran between his mother and his father with a chair.

The boy was strong enough to raise the chair, and with it strike the arm in which the knife was held. As he stopped the blow which his mother was aiming at his father the latter sank to the floor, half conscious. His mother started toward the room where his little brothers and sister lay, and the boy, fearing for their safety, stepped in between her and the door to the other room.

By this time his father had recovered strength enough to get to his feet and to grasp the chair which the child had brought him, and young Michael ran out into the street for help. As he left, the other children, awakened by the screams of the boy, got up and looked into the front room. In one corner, leaning on a chair for support, was their father, bleeding and almost too weak to stand from a great gash in his neck.

In another corner of the room was their mother, a knife in her upraised hand, kneeling before a crucifix made from two crossed bed slats.

The boy ran into the street for aid, and, returning with his uncle and a policeman, found his mother kneeling in the street with the knife upraised in one hand, praying and exulting because she had done "as St. Joseph had told her in her dream." The policeman went up behind her, snatched the knife from her hand, and raised her to her feet. She did not struggle, but smiled.

"All right, I have finished," she said. "Last night I had a dream. St. Joseph came to me in my sleep, dressed in the long white robes which he wears in his pictures in the Bible. He came to me, stood at the head of my bed, and told me to cut my husband's throat."

It is said at the hospital that Sarti had a chance of recovery.

Cured of Rheumatism.

Mr. Wm. Henry of Chattanooga, Tenn., had rheumatism in his left arm. "The strength seemed to have gone out of the muscles so that it was useless for work," he says. "I applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm and wrapped the arm in flannel at night, and to my relief I found that the pain gradually left me and the strength returned. In three weeks the rheumatism had disappeared and has not since returned." If troubled with rheumatism try a few applications of Pain balm. You are certain to be pleased with the relief which it affords. For sale by W. F. Creighton and Richard Gibson.

DeWitt's Kidney and Bladder pills are prompt and thorough and will in a short time strengthen weakened kidneys and allay troubles arising from inflammation of the bladder. Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co.

A Woman Tells How to Relieve Rheumatic Pains.

I have been a very great sufferer from the dreadful disease, rheumatism, for a number of years. I have tried many medicines but never got much relief from any of them until two years ago, when I brought a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I found relief before I had used all of one bottle, but kept on applying it and soon felt like a different woman. Through my advice many of my friends have tried it and can tell you how wonderfully it has worked.—Mrs. Sarah A. Cole, 140 S. New St., Dover, Del. Chamberlain's Pain Balm is a liniment. The relief from pain which it affords is alone worth many times its cost. It makes rest and sleep possible. For sale by W. F. Creighton and Richard Gibson.

Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup acts promptly yet gently on the bowels, through which the cold is forced out of the system, and at the same time allays inflammation. Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co.

Shake off the grip of your old enemy, Nasal starrh, by using Ely's Cream Balm. Then will the swelling and soreness be driven out of the tender, inflamed membranes. The fits of sneezing will cease and the discharge, as offensive to others as to yourself, will be stopped when the causes that produce it are removed. Cleanliness, comfort and renewed health by the use of Cream Balm. Sold by all druggists for 50c, or mailed by Ely Bros., 56 Warren street, New York.

Genuine Porto Rico Molasses.

In June, 1907, we offered for sale the first lot of Porto Rico Molasses that had been imported direct to Alexandria since the Civil War. The shipment was a large one and was fairly well distributed among our many customers. Since then we have had numerous repeat orders, and we are now placing on the market our fifth importation. The Molasses produced in Porto Rico, like our New Orleans product, has suffered with advent of modern science, but there is still some Old Fashioned Sugar Estates left that make

Molasses by the Muscovado or Open Kettle Process,

And our Mr. Frank King, while in Porto Rico, succeeded in making contract with factors of several of the sugar plantations, and we now offer the goods for sale.

To those who have had some of the Molasses out of previous shipments, it is not necessary to talk quality, as orders are coming in to us "Ship like last," but we desire to extend the trade to those who do not know us.

We renew our guarantee that if the Molasses is not satisfactory, it can be returned at our expense.

SATURDAY EVENING, APR. 11, 1908.

THE Gazette a few days ago spoke with pleasure of the growing independence of the United States Senate and of how it was gradually coming from under grinding republican partisan rule, but no one can say this of the House of Representatives. The docility with which the republican majority in that body voted to the last man this week to apply new and strange parliamentary gags to the democratic minority affords a striking example of the unscrupulousness of party spirit. Pretending republican tariff reformers who say they are in favor of repealing the duties on wood pulp and printing paper were as ready as the stand-patters to obstruct their own policy. As says the Philadelphia Record, "Like the sheep of Panurge, they all jumped when Payne and Dalzell held up the bar."

THE following paragraph tells its own sad tale:

Mr. A. F. Stofer, editor and proprietor of the Piedmont Virginian, at Orange, who had the misfortune to break his arm last week has decided to temporarily suspend the publication of that paper until such time as he may be able to do the work himself.

Mr. Stofer is a hard worker, a good writer, and a good fellow, and for the very love of the work, has, in spite of all temptations, remained a newspaper man. But unfortunately, like so many other Virginia editors, money did not flow his way and now in his declining years misfortune has followed misfortune and he has been forced to lay aside his work—but it is hoped only for a short time.

THE promised return of good times it is feared has been deferred, at least as far as the south is concerned, as will be seen from the following paragaphs:

The executive committee of the North Carolina Cotton Manufacturers' Association, representing 180 of the 200 mills of the state, met at Charlotte yesterday and decided to recommend the closing down of all mills in the state immediately, the cessation of operations continuing two months.

Fifteen hundred girls are affected by an order that has been issued at the Whitlock branch of the American Tobacco Company in Richmond, reducing the number of working days to four each week after Easter. All of the employes are now cognizant of the fact that after Easter they will quit work on Thursday afternoon and not return until the following Monday.

THE attempt will now be made to steal through Congress the Senate subsidy bill, providing for the expenditure of $4,608,862, as an amendment to the postoffice appropriation bill. The failure to procure favorable action at the hands of the House committee to which the subsidy scheme had been referred has created a situation of desperation. It is hoped by its friends to procure by indirection an assent which could not have been otherwise obtained. The bill, in the guise of postal subvention for the establishment of better mail facilities between the United States and Brazil and between the Pacific Coast and the Orient, is sugar-coated somewhat to the popular taste; but it is the entering wedge to a policy of extreme viciousness.

THE gradual increase of the army of the unemployed is a subject of grave concern, especially in the larger cities. A convention of representatives of labor and other bodies was held Monday at the Hotel Astor in New York to inquire into the number of unemployed throughout the United States and the reasons for their idleness. Mr. S. A. Stodel, a representative of the Industrial Workers of the World, said he had prepared a table of the unemployed in 37 States. A reasonable estimate, he declared, would place the total at 4,750,000. Mr. Stodel asserted that matters are going to be worse. This unfortunate condition of affairs is giving anarchists and socialists an opportunity to sow discord thoughout the country.

THE newly-elected Mayor of Harrisburg, Pa., will make a new departure in the case of drunkards. "Drunkenness is a disease, and we propose to act from that standpoint," declared the Mayor. "I have instructed my chief of police to see that plain drunks are taken home instead of to the lockup. That kind of treatment will do more than anything else to make a drinking man ashamed of himself. I also propose that when a man gets hopelessly drunk in a saloon the proprietor of the place shall take care of him, and not throw him out into the gutter. Of course, the disorderly drunks we will have to take in hand, for the protection of the community."

From Washington.

[Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]

Washington, D. C., April 11.

President Roosevelt today turned over to the department of justice for investigation, as to the character of its authors, a letter received by him, dated Rutherford, N. J., April 6, in which violent protest is made against the dispersion of the rioters in Union Square March 28 by Captain Schmittberger and the New York police. It says in part: "In taking your oath of office you have sworn to uphold the constitution, and when, as law-abiding citizens, knowing and respecting the law feel that you allow some to do what others may not, and being at the head of our goverment and a model for all citizens to follow, believe that you would be presenting a bad example and possibly encourage citizens to cultivate a contempt for that constitution which our forefathers fought and died to obtain. Therefore, we petition you to exercise some action in bringing the constition violator to account and deal with him as befits his his contempt for the federal laws."

The conference of governors called to meet at the White House on May 12, for the consideration of the question of conserving the country's natural resources, promises to bring to Washington the most notable assemblage of public men in a decade. Not only will the governor of every State and Territory meet with the president, but such men as Grover Cleveland, William Jennings Bryan, Andrew Carnegie and others. Every "favorite son" and every "possibility" will be present—Bryan, Knox, LaFollette, Fairbanks, Cannon, Hughes, Johnson, Gray, Taft, Cortelyou, Folk, and the president himself. James J. Hill, President of the Great Northern Railroad, will make one of the leading addresses, choosing as his subject, "The relation between rail and water transportation." President Roosevelt will make the opening address, and is expected to preside throughout the sessions, which will be held in the East Room. Each governor will be accompanied by three delegates; forty or more national organizations will be represented; every cabinet member, all the justices of the Supreme Court, members of the Inland Waterways Commission and many other public men will be present. The gathering is primarily for the purpose of securing co-operation in the work of conserving natural resources—the forests and the waterways. It will undoubtedly prove one of the most historic meetings ever held in Washington.

Orders were issued at the Navy Department today for the dispatch of 700 enlisted men from New York to the Asiatic station for the purpose of filling up the complement of the ships there to the full quota. About 300 of them will take the places of other men whose terms of enlistment have expired, thus the total number of men on the different ships will be increased by 400. It is stated at the Navy Department that there is no political significance attached to this move, it merely being the policy of the department to keep the full complement of men on all ships, if possible. Nearly every ship on the Atlantic coast was robbed of sailors to fill up the 16 battleships of the Atlantic fleet before starting on their journey last December.

Joseph Bowie, from Glymont, is at the Emergency Hospital. He claims he accidentally shot himself. The wound is believed to be serious.

Judge Kimball will pass on the motion for a new trial in the Harper case today. If the motion is denied he will sentence Harper. He was convicted of violating the pure food law. The president has insisted that Harper should be given one year in jail.

Senator Elkins today denounced as an unmitigated falsehood the story that he had leased a villa in Rome and that he and his daughter, Miss Katherine, would sail next Monday for Italy.

Judge Kimball, in the U. S. branch of the police court, today refused to grant a new trial for Robert N. Harper, formerly president of the American National Bank, and the first man to be convicted for a violation of the pure food law. Sentence, which was deferred today, will be pronounced by Judge Kimball next week. District Attorney Baker will urge that a jail sentence be imposed on Mr. Harper, this suggestion having been made to him by President Roosevelt. Mr. Harper stands in imminent danger of a jail sentence.

The condition of Thomas McCreary, who was accidentally shot by Representative Heflin two weeks ago, is considerably improved today.

Sixtieth Congress.

Washington, April 11.

SENATE.

Senate was not in session today, having adjourned Thursday until Monday.

HOUSE.

Not for years has an appropriation bill been so vigorously debated in the House as was the naval appropriation bill today. "Conservatives" regarded advocates of a "greater navy" as seeking to entice the country from its path of peace to the treacherous course of war; believers in the administration policy of a large increase in the navy declared Congress must this year be liberal to the navy or the honor of the flag and country will be endangered.

Mr. Gregg, a member of the naval committee which cut the administration's recommendation from four to two battleships, said he did not believe in building a "greater navy" to encourage a jingo and bullying spirit in this country. He declared that as soon as Roosevelt had settled on one policy for the navy, he unsettled Congress by settling on a new one. The Texan said "war talk" made him tired. Last year it was Germany, this year it is Japan, next year it will be another nation, as suits the whim of men who are manufacturing war talk for industrial purposes.

Mr. Richmond P. Hobson addressed the House in advocacy of an appropriation for four monster battleships. As to economical objections to four battleships, Captain Hobson said critics would do better to criticize rather the appropriation for the administration and maintenance of the Navy Department rather than the construction plan. He expressed a belief that it would be easy to man the new ships.

Chairman Foss, of the naval committee, cautiously called Mr. Hobson's attention to the fact that the bill did not provide for the manning of the proposed ships. Mr. Hobson acknowledged that. The next time a member rose to ask a question he insisted that queries must be pertinent.

Mr. Gregg (dem. Tex.) asked if the Alabamian did not know that that Navy Department had been unable to man what vessels it possesses.

"The gentleman does not know anything of the sort," shouted Mr. Hobson, as he sprang forward with clenched fists. Republicans and democrats alike, caught by the spirit of the speaker, cheered him, and the galleries, jammed to the doors with admirers of the young congressman, accepted the opportunity to express a roaring approval of the democratic defender of the Rooseveltian naval policy.

The task of replying to the war speech of Mr. Hobson fell to Mr. Burton, the great peace advocate, who, following Roosevelt in all else, opposes his naval policy. A big navy in this country, he said, would be interpreted by the world as our arming, not for peace, but for empire.

With the opening up of the submarine scandal already to his credit, Mr. Lilley startled the House by revealing more family skeletons from the closets of the naval affairs committee, of which he is a member. He charged that there had been lamentable misappropriations of $100,000,000 of public funds and gross extravagance in providing for navy yards and naval stations and introduced a resolution that the president appoint a commission to report on the advisability of abandoning the yards and stations at Kittery, Me., Port Royal and Charleston, S. C., Key West, Fla., New Orleans, La., and Mare Island, Cal.

News of the Day.

The Massachusetts republican convention yesterday omitted indorsement of Taft from the resolutions, as it was feared such a plank would cause party strife in the State.

The Sims anti-betting bill will be reported to the Senate on Monday and will be called up for consideration at an early date, possibly Tuesday morning. It is expected that the bill will be passed as soon as called.

Denunciation of President Roosevelt was the object of a meeting of London anarchists held last night under the leadership of the noted "red" Malavasi, chief lieutenant of the cult's unofficial European head, Malatesta.

It is now possible to walk underground from Long Island City to the Jersey Meadows, a distance of 5.3 miles. This is made possible through the completion of the excavation for the Pennsylvania Railroad's south tunnel under Bergen Hill, back of Hoboken, N. J.

Pending the outcome of the suit brought by Attorney General Jackson to dissolve the Mutual Reserve Life Insurance Company, Justice Dowling in New York today appointed Joseph J. O'Donohue, jr., and Joseph H. Day, permanent receivers of the corporation.

Mrs. Pauline Neff-Metzgar, an actress and prominently identified with Altoona, Pa., society, was married Thursday in New York to Dr. J. M. Munyon, of Philadelphia, who has gained reputation through his proprietary medicines and who is said to be a millionaire. The bride, a daughetr of Colonel D. J. Neff, dean of the Blair county bar, is unusually charming and talented. She is 24 years old.

Following an attack on a twelve-year old girl, May Morris, at Longview, Tex., Thursday, Albert Temple, a negro, was captured by a posse and lynched yesterday. The negro confessed his crime after he had been identified. He was taken to the courthouse yard, a rope placed around his neck, a horse driven from under him, and he was left hanging. While returning home from a visit in the neighborhood, the child was seized by the negro, who attempted to carry her into a near-by thicket, but dropped her and ran when her screams attracted the attention of an old negro, who started to the rescue.

The playing of Sunday baseball in Mobile is to become an issue in the Alabama courts. Charles S. Colson, secretary of the Mobile baseball club, who was arrested on instructions from the governor for violating the anti-baseball law, will the matter through the courts, in order to make a test case.

CONGRESSIONAL.

The House, in committee of the whole, yesterday considered the naval appropriation bill. General debate was in order, and most of the speeches were confined to some phase of the bill. There was no filibuster.

In ridiculing Mr. Hobson's minority report favoring four battleships, Mr. Padgett said it reminded him of the father who preached to his son that gambling was wrong and the way to break up the iniquity was to become such an expert gambler that he could win all the other gamblers' money.

"When the honor of our country and the glory of that flag are questioned why talk of economy!"

Such was the appeal to the House by Mr. Favrot (dem., La.) in his maiden speech, in advocating the appropriation for a "greater navy".

"May the United States lead in this sacred cause of war against war. There is more glory in it in one day than on a hundred battleships in a thousand years."

In this way Mr. Bartholdt (rep., Mo.) opposed the change in the naval policy of the United States government in appropriating for more than one new battleship a year. Following up the second Hague conference, he said the United States should call a halt in naval armament, not by paper resolutions merely, but by actual example.

UNIVERSITY OF VIRGINIA.

The board of visitors of the University of Virginia last night accepted the resignation of Dr. John W. Mallet, professor of chemistry, who had been invited by the Carnegie Foundation to become a beneficiary. This distinguished scholar was then elected emeritus professor of chemistry. Dr. Charles H. Bunting's resignation as a professor of pathology was accepted. Dr. Bunting will go to fill a similar chair at his alma mater, the University of Wisconsin.

Dr. A. Carl Meloy, instructor in pathology, was chosen adjunct professor of pathology.

Dr. John A. E. Eyster, of Johns Hopkins University, was elected professor of pharmacology and materia medica, the subjects formerly taught by Dr. Paul B. Barringer. The law course was made a three-year course, beginning September of next year.

TO KILL THE DANDRUFF GERM

Is the Only Possible Way of Having An Effective Cure.

If you see a woman or a man with luxuriant glossy hair, you may be sure neither has dandruff to amount to anything. In nearly every case where women and men have thin brittle hair, they owe it to dandruff. There are hundreds of preparations that "claim" to cure dandruff, but not one but Newbro's Herpicide tells you that dandruff is the result of a germ burrowing into the scalp, and that permanent cure of dandruff and its consequent falling and baldness can only be had by killing the germ; and there is no other preparation that will destroy that germ but Newbro's Herpicide. "Destroy the cause, and you remove the effect."

Sold by Ernest L. Allen & Co., agents. Two sizes 50c and $1.00. Send 10c in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich. 140

Virginia News.

A summer normal school will be held in Fredericksburg this year, commencing July 1 and continuing one month. Professor E. H. Russell will have charge and an excellent faculty has been chosen. The session will be held at Fredericksburg College.

Professor Joshua Walker Gore, dean of the school of applied sciences of the University of North Carolina, died Wednesday night in the Union Protestant infirmary, Baltimore. Professor Gore was a native of Frederick county, and was 56 years old.

The old cruiser Hartford, which was Admiral Farragut's flagship, will be placed in commission on April 14 at the Norfolk navy yard, for duty as a practice ship at the Naval Academy. The Hartford has been at Norfolk for some time undergoing repairs and general overhauling.

Henry Schnurman, 40 years old, a merchant tailor, of Richmond, died yesterday of acute mania and exhaustion at Moorebrook Sanitarium, Charlottsville, where he had been under treatment for two weeks. The hospital authorities were unable to give sufficient nourishment to offset the man's frenzied exertions. He was kept under a restraining sheet during his stay in the sanatarium and food had to be administered by force. Several years ago he suffered a severe accident, crippling him for life. His wife and four brothers survive him.

Mrs. Alice Robertson, widow of Judge William J. Robertson, and her daughter, the wife of Judge Allen B. Hanckel, of Norfolk, were seriously and perhaps fatally injured in a runaway accident yesterday two miles north of Norfolk. A strap broke and the horse ran away, throwing Mrs. Hanckel violently to the ground. It is feared that her skull is fractured. Both ankles are badly sprained. Mrs. Robertson's skirt caught in the buggy step and she was dragged some distance, the wheel cutting deep gashes in one of her legs, tearing the tendons loose. Even should she survive the shock it is possible that the injured leg may have to be amputated. Mrs. Robertson was carried to Charlottesville by a colored man, who found her in a semi-delirious condition on the roadside. Mrs. Hanckel was picked up a half hour later by another passerby.

COMPLICATED DIVORCE.

A divorce decision that has attracted attention throughout the United States was affirmed in New York yesterday by the appellate division of the Supreme Court. It was that of Porte V. Ransom, who obtained from Justice Dowling, of the Supreme Court, a decree of divorce from Mrs. George L. Browning, of Madison, Va.

It appears that Mrs. B. Hill Ransom, wife of the plaintiff, left that city and went to her former home in Virginia, where she obtained a divorce from Ransom in the Circuit Court of Virginia on the one ground recognized by the courts of the State of New York. On February 27, 1906, five years after obtaining her decree, she married George L. Browning, a Washington lawyer and law partner of Representative James Hay, of Virginia, who appeared as Mrs. Ransom's lawyer.

On April 24, 1906, Ransom began an action for divorce in New York because she was living with Browning. Justice Dowling granted Ransom the decree and this judgment is now affirmed by the appellate division.

Ransom did not defend the Virginia action brought by his wife because no service was made on him except by publication under the Virginia statutes, and here lies the legal question which in all likelihood will take the case to the United States Supreme Court.

The Virginia decree was granted to a bona fide resident of the state, Madison being Mrs. Ransom's native place, and she had returned to her home and relatives there. The decree in Virginia was granted after a full hearing and in conformity with the Virginia statutes.

Justice Dowling was compelled, as he stated in his opinion, to find as a conclusion of law that the Virginia divorce was of no force and effect against Ransom because of the lack of personal service.

DESPERATE NEGRO KILLED.

A dispatch from Smith's Cross Roads, Va., says that Beard Moss, a desperate young negro, was shot and killed late Thursday by Mr. J. M. Bishop, a prominent citizen whose life he threatened when ordered off the place after he had attempted a criminal assault upon Miss Louise Bishop, his daughter, and broken into her home and driven her out. A coroner's jury exonerated the father.

The negro had been to Boynton to attend a celebration. Returning home he passed the residence of Mr. Bishop. Miss Louise Bishop, a beautiful 14-year-old girl, was walking in the road near her home, and the negro accosted her. Miss Bishop ran to the house, which was but a short distance away, but the negro, who was riding a mule, attempted to ride over the girl before she could reach the house. In this he failed, and before he could dismount she had gained the entrance and bolted the door. She thought her position then secure but the negro broke in the door and entered. The girl ran out the other door, accompanied by her little sister, who is about 5 years old. All the other members of the family were away from home except her father, who was in the field near by. He heard the girl's screams and came to the rescue.

The father found the negro pursuing her. He ordered the man to leave the premises. The negro refused, saying that he could kill as many scoundrels as anyone, and proceeded to thrust his hand in his left hip pocket as if to draw a revolver. Mr. Bishop ran into the house and secured his gun. As Moss came at him, Mr. Bishop shot the negro, the load striking near Moss's heart. The negro fell dead on the porch of Mr. Bishop's residence.

The condition of the girl as the result of her experience is said to be critical.

DEATH OF R. A. HOOE.

Mr. Robert Arthur Hooe, for many years a prominent merchant of Washington, died at the George Washington University Hospital yesterday after an illness of several weeks. Mr. Hooe came of a prominent Virginia family, and was born in Fauquier county on September 22, 1818. In 1840 he went to Washington to clerk in the store of his brother, P. H. Hooe. Mr. Hooe's remains will be interred at Fredericksburg on Monday, with Masonic rites.

Today's Telegraphic News.

New York Republicans.

New York, April 11.—The republican State convention met in Carnegie Hall today to carry out the mandate of the leaders and to instruct for Hughes, and this in direct opposition to the requests of the general run of delegates that their representatives either go uninstructed or that they be instructed for Taft. It is felt by the leaders of the party that Taft is likely to be named on the first ballot, and they think the New York delegation should be in a position to benefit by any situation that may arise.

The new State committee will be selected late this afternoon after the convention adjourns, and there will be but one change, William Halpin, an Odell man, being succeeded probably by Charles Page.

The much talked of fight to be made for Taft in the convention fizzled out at a caucus of delegates at the Hotel Manhattan today. They decided by unanimous vote, however, to vote against the Hughes resolutions. The objection will be merely formal, however, and the delegates agree to make no fight.

Striking Street Car Men.

Pensacola, Fla., April 11.—With the police on guard in every section of the city to prevent gatherings of striking street car men, a state of terror exists here today. The strikers are greatly incensed at the men who have taken their places and today a gang of them, eluding the police, formed and made a concerted attack on several strike breakers. A terrific battle ensued in which knives and clubs were freely used, and before the police reserves arrived fifteen men were severly beaten or clubbed. The police were forced to freely use their clubs to put an end to the hostilities. Further trouble is feared. Should the rioting become general, a call will be made on the governor for troops. Cars are being operated with the utmost difficulty despite the police protection afforded the strikebreakers. For the most part the cars are running empty, the residents fearing to ride in them while they are being operated by the strikebreakers.

Suicide in His Coffin.

Bologna, April 11.—Count Coltelli dropped into a local undertaker's last night to try on his coffin. The undertaker thought it a queer thing to do, but Coltelli had furnished a more or less satisfactory explaination. It was a magnificent coffin—one of the finest in the undertaker's stock. Coltelli picked it out a few days ago—for a friend, he said. The undertaker trimmed it and the count called again to see how it suited. It looked well, he admitted, but did the undertaker think it a good fit? Until he saw the corpse the undertaker admitted he could not tell. Oh, well, Coltelli said, he was about his size and would jump in and see how it suited him. The undertaker watched him questioningly. "It seems all right," said the count, stretching himself at full length. Then he pulled out a revolver and blew out his brains. He will be buried in the coffin he himself selected.

Prince Sagan and Mme. Gould.

New York, April 11.—Under assumed names Mme. Anna Gould and her princely lover, Helie de Sagan, sailed away from America today leaving behind the impression that they were married by a justice of the peace in Hoboken last night although they went today on different steamers, the prince on the St. Paul of the American line and Mme. Gould on the North German Lloyd liner Friederich de Grosse. The prince, after positively evading a direct answer to the question if he and Mme. Gould had been married, finally said, after boarding the St. Paul: "I will say nothing about the matter, neither will I say that an engagement exists, or that I have been married." De Sagan was booked as "A. D. Hodges."

Mrs. Duke Arrested.

Chicago, April 11.—Bond giving freedom to Mrs. Alice Webb Duke, divorced wife of Brodie L. Duke, one of heads of the "tobacco trust," and who spent the night in a cell at the Harrison street police station, it was expected would be furnished today. Mrs. Duke was arrested on a warrant which charged her with obtaining money from the Great Northern Hotel Company by means of a fraudulent check. Mrs. Duke broke down and cried piteously. Her plight she considered the result of the persecutions of her husband's family. She declared that she had done nothing wrong.

Anarchist Plot Frustrated.

Paris, April 11.—A half dozen additional arrests have been made today in connection with the May Day "carnival of anarchy" The conspiracy is admitted by the police to have been the most formidable of its kind ever uncovered in Paris. The cart loads of bombs seized was sufficient, experts say, to have blown up half of Paris. What worries the police is the fear that there may be another or perhaps several other magazines, and that plotters they have not yet captured will attempt to carry out the original programme.

Suicide of a Woman.

Brooklyn, April 11.—An unknown woman, about 30 years of age, showing evidences of refinement in her features and wearing well-cut black clothing, jumped from the string piece at the foot of Fourth street, near Fourth avenue, Brooklyn, into the canal this morning. She was seen by workmen in nearby factories, but the body was not found until fully an hour later, it having become wedged under two canal boats. The suicide had a wedding ring with the initials "M. G."

Former Premier Sinking.

London, April 11.—Former Premier Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman is sinking rapidly. It is feared his death is a question of but a few hours. He is yielding rather to a gradual weakening of vitality than to any alarming turn to the heart complaint from which he is suffering.

EUREKA!

Yes, I Have Found It at Last.

Found what? Why, that Chamberlain's Salve cures eczema and all manner of itching of the skin. I have been afflicted for many years with skin disease. I had to get up three or four times every night and wash with cold water to allay the terrible itching, but since using this salve in December, 1905, the itching has stopped and I am not troubled me.—Elder John T. After a brave struggle against death he finally succumbed.

Only the fact that the train was moving slowly saved many of the passengers from death. The passengers continued on their journey early today.

MEMORIAL SERVICES.

The committee having in charge the memorial services of Alva Aerie, Order of Eagles, to be held in the Opera House on Sunday evening, May 10, met last night and made the preliminary arrangements for the observance of that day. The committee in charge is composed of Messrs Thomas Chauncey, chairman; Jacob Brill, R. F. Knox, jr., W. E. Jacobson, B. B. Cline, S. F. Moore, J. D. Normoyle, John R. Travers and John E. Rice.

"CASTLES IN THE AIR."

A large and delighted audience greeted Senator "Bob" Taylor, of Tennessee, last night when he appeared on the platform at the George R. Hill Memorial building to deliver his lecture on "Castles in the Air." The Senator is a man of fine presence with a rich southern voice and pleasing manner and he won his audience from the start. He was gracefully introduced by Rev. C. D. Bulla to which introduction he made gracious reply. Then he began his castle building—in the air—and for an hour and a half kept his audience in roars of laughter mingled with periods of pathetic emotion. His lecture was replete with clean wit and pleasing humor and his description of the old times down on his father's southern farm was beautiful and abounded with pathos. His anecdotes were good and well told and brought forth rounds of applause. He has a wonderful flow of language and strings words as a skilled artificer strings pearls on a silver cord, each fitting in its place, and embellishing the other. Senator Taylor is a philosopher and advised his hearers to get all the good out of the world that is possible and concluded his lecture by saying if it is true that "Laugh and the world laughs with you," then why not keep it laughing all the time?

A SURPRISE PARTY.

A very large crowd of young people gathered at the residence of Mrs. Lyons on Duke street last Thursday night to surprise Miss Margaret Lyons in the way of a pound party. The party was a success in every respect. After refreshments were served all left for their homes highly pleased with the evening's entertainment. Among those present were:

Messrs. Edward Nagel, Clarence Sutton, Ernest Reynolds, Ezekiel Moore, Lawrence Gardner, Robert Lyons, Willie Lyons, Eddie Hart, Samuel Wade, Chas. Bittle, James Jones; Misses Elsie Thomas, Bessie Moore, Louise Hart, Ida Allen, Grace Bagot, Ella Bagot, Grace Wiley, Maggie Moore, Mary V. Walker, Ethel Allen, Bessie Russell, Virgie Upton, Amanda Rambo, Margaret Lyons; Mrs. Belle Parker, M. A. Walker, Mabel Grimes, Mabel Williams, Annie Shirley.

DEATH OF MRS. NIXON.

Mrs. Julie Eglin Nixon, wife of John Nixon, jr., of New York, died on Wednesday night at her home at Livingston Manor, New York, after a brief illness. Mrs. Nixon was well known in Washington, where she spent her girlhood, and also in Fairfax county, Va., where she lived later. She was the eldest daughter of Benjamin Eglin, of Fairfax county, and a granddaughter of the late Judge Henry Wirt Thomas, at one time lieutenant governor of Virginia. Mrs. Nixon had been a bride less than a year. Mrs. Nixon is survived by her husband and her father, by her sister, Mrs Georgs Maurice, of Paxtang, Pa., and by her brother, Lieut. H. W. T. Eglin, U. S. A. Her body was forwarded to Fairfax Courthouse, where the funeral services and interment took place this morning.

PROPERTY SALES.

The Spring Park Improvement Company has just sold its property at the western end of King street extended to Philadelphia parties and it is understood that the purchasers will at once develop the property and place it on the market for sale. This is a very valuable piece of property and is well located for suburban residences.

Mr. S. H. Lunt today sold at public auction for Mr. J. H. Robey, trustee, the lot and improvements theron on the north side of Queen street, east of West, to Mr E. A. Deavers for $505.

NOT THE MAN.

James Walnut, a negro, twenty-one years old, was arrested by Constable Harry Collins, at the Virginia end of the Aqueduct Bridge last night on suspicion of having attacking Miss Amelia Schroff Thursday night, near her home in Rosslyn. A number of spectators assisted the constable in rushing the negro to the trolley car, which carried him to the Alexandria county jail. Walnut was seen at the jail later by Miss Schroff and she said he was not the man. The negro, however, was held and she was to take another look at him today.

ATTEMPTED ROBBERY.

At an early hour last night thieves made a bold effort to rob the residence of Mrs. Frances Danenhower, 1009 King street. They were, however, scared off and made their escape before the arrival of police. Chief Good's soon reached the house, and after making an examination found that a rear second-story window had been raised by the burglars. Two strange white men had been seen lurking in the neighborhood and they are supposed to have attempted the robbery.

THE FISHING SEASON.

There is more animation at Fishtown, the arrivals of herring having increased. They are selling at about one-half the price they were bringing at the beginning of the week, being quoted this morning at $4 per thousand. These figures, however, will not be maintained, Shad are still scarce and prices are firm at $30 a 55 per hundred.

RECEPTION.

The Epworth League of the M. E. Church South will give a reception in honor of Rev. C. D. Bulla, pastor, on Monday evening at eight o'clock in the Young People's Building. Imported Schweitzer.

It doesn't matter what line of business a man is in, there is always a certain article in that line that he makes a specialty of. My specialty is my "Schweitzerkase." Imported, as it is, from the largest cheese farm in Switzerland (a farm that is patronized by a majority of the royal families of Europe), it is really the only Schweitzer in this city worthy of the name "Imported." Nothing adds to kitchen convenience in summer weather like a New Perfection Wick Blue Flame Oil Cook-Stove. Anything that any stove can do the "New Perfection" will do, and do it better. Bakes, roasts, boils, toasts; heats the wash water and the sad irons, and does it without dissipating its heat through the room to your discomfort. The

SLEEPING SOUNDLY.

Working under the resolution adopted a few days ago, the Senate will take up no more Senate bills this session, and though it cannot be said that any measures of vital importance are left on the calendar, there are certainly some interesting ones put to sleep under this rule. One measure of interest, which is now dead, is the State Breeder's Association or racing bill, as it was better known, which for a time caused much comment on the part of the press.

The bill defining malt beverages and regulating the manner in which the same can be sold is now, also, a dead issue. Another bill which cannot be reached this session is the measure requiring connections between telegraph and telephone companies and regulating the delivery of messages subject to the order of the State Corporation Commission.

The bill imposing a tax on the business of selling, giving and delivering coupons, tags, box fronts, etc., in connection with the sale of articles also comes under this head. An attempt to take this bill up was made on Saturday but it was voted down.

Another bill of interest which is killed under this rule is Senate bill No. 420, vesting the State Corporation Commission with the power of prescribing and enforcing rates and charges of pilotage.
